Licensed Educational Psychologist

I'm writing to express my interest in the position psychologist, with strong academic background in psychology and several years of hands-on experience working with individuals across different age groups and cultural backgrounds, Iam confident in my ability to contribute meaningfully to your team.

I hold a master's degree in educational psychology, and specialized diploma in social science, and have completed several trainings that fits my domain, my experience includes conducting psychological assessments, providing individual and group therapy, and developing personalized treatment plans. I'm particularly skilled in working with cases involving trauma, and emotional regulation challenges. I also have experience collaborating with multidisciplinary teams and advocating for clients within educational, medical. And legal settings.

I'm deeply passionate about mental health and committed to ethical, evidence-based practice. Am confident that my qualifications and dedication make me a strong candidate for this role.
